Installation Instructions for HPC Pro for MT4 and HPC Pro for MT5

The instructions below will guide you in installing the HPC software for either MT4 or for MT5. All of our documentation and examples below are based on MT4, but the process for MT5 is exactly the same.

- 1. The first step is to run your copy of MT4 and make note of the Data Folder, which will be needed when running the installer.
  - a. Run your copy of MT4
  - b. From the File menu, select the Open Data Folder option
  - c. A new dialog will appear displaying the contents of the Data Folder being used by that copy of MT4. The only thing we need is the name of the folder, which you should see at the very top of the dialog. It will usually be a long string of letters and numbers. You don't need to write down the entire folder name, just the first 6 or 7 characters should be enough.

In the snapshot below, the Folder name is F2262CFAFF47C27887389DAB2852351A. As mentioned above, just jot down the first 6 or 7 characters.

- 8. If this is your first time using the product (or if you think your HPC License String may have changed) then you will need to display your HPC License String, which you will then send to us via email so that we can either activate your trial or activate your paid license.
- 9. To generate your HPC License String:
  - a. Start MT4.
  - b. Pull up a fresh/blank chart and add the hpcLicensePanel indicator, which you can find in the HPC section of your Navigator pane in MetaTrader.

c. When the indicator loads at the bottom of your chart, you will see your HPC License String displayed in the indicator.

- click on the Copy button on the right to copy the HPC License String to the Windows clipboard. You can then paste it into an email which you will send to hpc@sr-analyst.com. In the email you can either request a 14-day trial or activate your paid subscription.
- e. If you already have a license, then click on the Refresh button to see if your license is active or not. If the indicator turns green it means your license is currently active and the number of days left in your license will be displayed in the indicator. If your license is NOT currently active the indicator will turn red.
